

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

MAY 2009

By: Stephen Charles Barry

The beginning of May coincides with thought filled Mercury's transit in it's home sign of Gemini. Here Gemini's influence turbo charges minds with a flurry of ideas and thoughts that can be shared and expressed from almost every conceivable angle until Mercury's motion turns retrograde on May 6th. It might be a good idea at this point to reiterate to anyone and everyone what you have just heard them communicate to insure that all parties are on the same page as misunderstandings can occur more frequently. I would suggest bringing a good book when traveling as unforeseen delays can feel exasperating now if we let them.

Mercury remains in retrograde until the last day of the month marking a period of review, reassessment and re commitment to facts. This is especially true as Mercury's backward motion revisits plodding, deliberate, I'm in no rush Taurus on May 13 through the remainder of May. The signing of contracts and the making of promises and/or declarations is better postponed until after the 31st when Mercury once again goes direct.

The full moon in intense, passionate Scorpio on May 8th feels challenged to transform the lofty, exalted vision for humanity expressed by the Neptune/Jupiter conjunction in people loving Aquarius into something with flesh, bone and heart.

Orderly and structured Saturn turns direct on May,16th marking a period where inner vision manifests in the outer worlds with greater ease and fluidity. A committed, systematic, disciplined approach to reaching goals and objectives coupled with divine inspiration can manifest great, good things after Mercury turns direct on May30th.

Stephen is available for private intuitive astrology readings that focus on gifts, lessons, relationships, career and family dynamics, main themes & cycles for the upcoming 12 months, as well as Astrocatology (Power spots) about particular places around the globe and how they energetically relate to your chart. 1 hr. sessions $100

Contact Stephen at:
973-839-8228
waterparrot@hotmail.com